Hello I'm Jenane

I'm a novice web developer from Canada. Currently working in the non-profit and research industry.

About me!

Hi again, I'm a new in-training web developer from Canada with a background in Psychology and currently working in the non-profit sector. I am an empathetic impact professional dedicated to understanding and reducing barriers faced by underrepresented communities. My life purpose is to work with local community-driven nonprofits and social enterprises using research to understand the experiences of youth, women and racialized communities. I have four years of professional experience in the non-profit sector, gaining strong skills in public-speaking, research and project management. I have extensive experience working with underrepresented communities including Science Engagement Programs and Youth Culture Inc. As a lifelong learner and critical thinker, I am always looking to educate and improve myself through new experiences and opportunities. I am always curious and ready to take on new challenges. I am a team-player always ready to listen and learn from my colleagues.
